

Dr. G. Suman, currently working as Professor in the Department of Community Medicine, M.S. Ramaiah Medical College, Bangalore has 15 years of experience in teaching for both undergraduates and postgraduates. Her areas of interest are Biomedical waste management, medical education, Geriatrics, and Tuberculosis.

As a member of medical education unit of the institution she has built the capacity of the medical teachers in basic education technologies. She is presently pursuing an advanced course in medical education offered by the Nodal centre.

As a Co- investigator she has completed 3 funded projects and is currently pursuing research in the area of Tuberculosis and COVID as a co-investigator. She has 14 publications to her credit

She is also one of the co-ordinators for the “Environmentally Sound Management of Medical Waste in India”- a pilot project funded by UNIDO, MoEFCC, GOI and Home nodal officer - for the state of Odisha